

DOROTHY LEEDS

IN

GOOD LESSONS FROM BAD WOMEN

WHAT CAN WE LEARN FROM THE MEMORABLE MISDEEDS OF OTHERS?

“Was mother really right?”,
“Could there be something to learn from the misdeeds of others?” and
“What’s so good about being good?”

Successful actress, author and motivational speaker from New York City, Dorothy Leeds, brings humor, and life lessons to the stage as she explores various dimensions of badness in this spirited one-woman romp through history. Dorothy, a good girl who wants to be a bad girl, resolves this conflict with the help of eight naughty, bawdy, bad women who guide her from rebellion to self-acceptance.
